A great day was had by all in June, at the annual Dolwyddelan Carnival. Here is the Carnival Queen Gabrielle with her two charming attendants, Isabelle and Elan.

29th September 1877 – North Wales Chronical

DOLWYDDELEN FAIR – The September fair was held here on the 18th. There were but few cattle on offer, and still fewer buyers. It appears that this fair is gradually dwindling away, and it will be so whilst the ‘iron’horse’, with its breath of steam and smoke, is seen rushing up our valley, and startling with its echoes, the quiet ravines of this secluded spot – then, probably, our fairs and trade in general will revive.

Advanced notice of ‘Breakfast with Father Christmas’ for local children, on Saturday 9th December in the Pavilion at 9.30 until 11.00am. Father Christmas will be visiting us with his Good and Naughty lists.
